VEAL PROPOSES TO CONCENTRATE AUTOMOBILE TAX

Chaves County Representative Would Make Owners Pay on Horsepower and Exempt Them From Other Duties.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—The examination for teachers' certificates, still furnished material for a laugh, as they are being graded.

One applicant for a teacher's certificate replied to the question: "What is dyspepsia?" with: "It is a disease of the nose and is cured by smoking." Particularly weird are the answers to the questions on New Mexico history and civics, this being the first time that all the applicants had to submit to an examination on this topic, before given the choice to answer any five out of ten questions on civics. The questions were easy, but nevertheless the answers show how necessary it is to teach these subjects.

It is remarkable is the uniformity with which the question: "Enumerate the officers of the state," was answered, for even though the applicant did not know the name of the governor or of the United States senator in the state, he was always careful to enumerate the superintendent of public instruction and every employee in his office and adding the prefix "Hon." to each one, even though it was misleading as to the other officers.

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 19, Laws of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

That no other additional fee, license or property tax shall be collected from, or charged against any such motor vehicle within the state. Such fees shall be for annual registration, and all licenses shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year, provided that any application, received and registered after July 1 of any year, shall pay one-half of the fee as fixed by this act.

Section 2. That section 15, of chapter 19, of the Laws of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows: All fees provided for herein to be paid to the secretary of state, less five per cent thereof for the administration of this act, shall be returned on the first day of March, annually, by the secretary of state to the counties from which received, the same to be expended on the county roads within said county. Provided, that fire engines and fire patrol apparatus, police patrol wagons, municipal or county ambulances and such self-propelled vehicles as are used neither for the conveyance of persons for hire, pleasure or business, nor for the transportation of freight, such as road rollers, street sprinklers and traction engines are exempt from the provisions of this act.

Section 3. That all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 4. That this act shall take effect on the first day of January, 1915.

OLDER STATES FOLLOW NEW MEXICO'S EXAMPLE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—How the "New Mexico Idea" is spreading to other states, is apparent from the way that Illinois has started to take motion pictures of the work in its public schools. The Chicago Tribune of last Friday prints pictures of the process of making movies of the process in the manual training departments of its schools.

Illinois has appropriated $50,000 for that part of the exhibit alone and $500,000 for the entire exhibit. New Mexico was the first to take motion pictures of its public schools and their work for exhibition purposes and is the only state whose exhibit at San Diego has incorporated the motion picture which is called "New Mexico Idea" in the east. New York City is taking 50,000 feet of motion pictures for exhibit purposes, but pays $2 a foot, while New Mexico is having its films produced for only 50 cents a foot.

Valuable Books Given Museum.
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—Another gift of valuable books was received by the New Mexico Museum from Dr. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan, and one of the managing committee of the School of American Archaeology. The gift comprises eleven volumes, superbly illustrated with plates in color and monochrome and beautifully bound and include: "East Christian Paintings," by Charles R. Morey, of Princeton University; "Word Formation in Prehistoric," by Edward L. Adams, University of Michigan; "Roman Historical Sources and Institutions," by Henry A. Sanders, of the University of Michigan; "Latin and Greek in American Education," by Francis W. Kelsey, of the University of Michigan; "The Washington Manuscript of Deuteronomy and Joshua," by Henry A. Sanders, one of the oldest Biblical manuscripts in existence; "The Washington Manuscript of the Four Gospels," by Henry A. Sanders; "Athenian Lektikon," by Arthur Fairbanks of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, in two volumes; "Roman History and Mythology," by Henry A. Sanders; "Latin Philology," by Clarence L. Meader, University of Michigan; "The Circulation and Sleep," accompanied by an Atlas, by John P. Shepard, of the University of Michigan.

Snow Causes Heavy Loss.
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—A heavy snow tonight greatly added to the distress of sheep men in northern New Mexico. Reports came in from various sections during the day that hundreds of sheep were dying for lack of feed, as snow has covered the ground on many ranges since early in December, and the snow tonight will further add to the difficulty.

Supple at Sixty
Age and ripe experience mean happiness and usefulness when mental and bodily powers are preserved by keeping rich blood in the veins. Nature's rare nourishment in Scott's Emulsion creates rich blood, warms the body and alleviates rheumatic tendencies. Its oil-food imparts strength to both body and brain. It is Nourishment—not Alcohol.

UNCONSCIOUS HUMOR CONTINUES TO CROP OUT IN EXAMINATIONS

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL

ROSWELL FILMS ARE SHOWN AT SANTA FE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—Those who are now at the battlefront in France! exclaimed Captain delBemond of Roswell today, as one of the motion picture films of the expedition to the mission was being tested in the Paris theater by Colonel Twitchell. It was a picture of the fair procession at Roswell and the horses were some of those of Captain delBemond's famous stock farm. The picture was a marvel and a number of Roswell people in the audience, including Capt. W. G. Reid, named the people whom they recognized as they passed in automobiles on the floor or on horseback. Other pictures from Captain delBemond's ranch, including the $2,600 imported Percheron, the prize Karoo sheep were remarkably fine. The pictures were the water building high above the casing, farm scenes, were so graphic that they actually seemed to live.

Equally wonderful were the pictures from the Koshier coal mines, coke ovens and tipple. The operations of New Mexico coal mining passed review and revealed scenes that are but little known even to New Mexicans. Still more wonderful were the pictures of the Chino Copper company operations in Grant county. One scene depicts the explosion of 50,000 pounds of dynamite and an entire mountainside toppled over. The operations at Santa Rita and Hurley are on a truly gigantic scale and this is brought out vividly by the motion pictures. Prints of the Navajo pictures were also shown, the fire and other dances, the Shumuck and the Navajo baby show, the feast of the five thousand melons, the auctioning of Navajo blankets, are a few of the striking incidents in this last reel which will give the visitor to Santa Fe a new idea of the great variety of New Mexico attractions.

SANTA FE COMMANDERY INSTALLS OFFICERS

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—Santa Fe Commandery No. 1, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, installed the following officers, Past Commander W. O. Conner being the installing officer:

SANTA FE PERSONALS.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—J. P. Adams, who made the models of New Mexico Landmarks for the New Mexico building at San Diego, including those of the Alamo, Pecos and Poudre, declared by scientists, the finest to be found in any museum, will leave this week for Copan and other ancient Maya cities in Honduras and Guatemala, Central America. He will spend the spring and the rainy season sets in, studying and making casts of the wonderful Maya monuments.

Dr. Charles A. Wheeler left tonight for Socorro on medical business. A number of Socorro Masons expect to take the higher degrees at the reunion in Santa Fe during the week of February 22.

Burglars Do Complete Job.
Alamogordo, N. M., Jan. 25.—Mrs. George B. Bent and her son, Harry M. Benton, returning from a short stay in El Paso, found that the Bent home in New York avenue had been burglarized in a novel and leisurely way. Entrance was effected through the back door by the burglars, evidently two in number. The trunk was burst open, but the only articles missing were two suits of clothes, the discarded clothes being left in the house by the robbers. The burglars evidently were aware that the tenants were out of town, for they slept in one of the bed rooms. Some canned fruit was opened and eaten. Silverware and other valuables were accessible, but were not taken.

DOUGHERTY DIES AT SOCORRO OF HEART FAILURE

Prominent Citizen and Able Attorney Succumbs to Grim Reaper; Was Member of Constitutional Convention.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Socorro, N. M., Jan. 25.—Harry M. Dougherty, one of the most prominent citizens of New Mexico, a member of the constitutional convention that drafted the present state constitution, an able lawyer and a conspicuous figure in the politics of this state for the last twenty-five years, died at his home here at 1:15 o'clock this morning after an illness of about two weeks.

Mr. Dougherty was at first taken with a severe cold, which later developed into pneumonia, and for several days his life was despaired of. He recovered from the attack of pneumonia, but on his return to a weakened condition, and the immediate cause of his death is given as heart failure.

Daughters on Way Home.
A life, two daughters and a 3-year-old son survive. The daughters have been at school in Notre Dame college, Indiana, and are now hurrying home. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Dougherty was nearly 47 years old, having been born at North Platte, Neb., April 7, 1868. He received his early education in the schools of that city. He later moved to Fort Worth, Tex., and in 1890 received his law degree from the University of Washington, St. Louis.

Before taking his law degree, Mr. Dougherty had moved to New Mexico, taking up his residence in Socorro in 1887. On his return to the state after his graduation he entered the practice of the law, and in 1896 and 1897 was district attorney for the Fifth judicial district. In 1900 he was elected to the state senate, and in 1902 was elected to the constitutional convention at Kansas City and was a member of the platform committee of that body. He was a Mason of high rank and a member of the Mystic Shrine.

OFFICERS OF WOMEN'S BOARD OF TRADE MAKE THEIR ANNUAL REPORTS

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Jan. 25.—The Women's Board of Trade at its meeting this afternoon heard the annual reports of its various activities, including the public library, the care of the plaza, Fairview cemetery and charity work.

Mrs. H. S. Kanne, the president, announced the committees for the coming year. The Des Moines year, the annual tax levy for the support of the library has been cut off, the board managed to make ends meet, and look forward to a more prosperous year than last.

Freight Wrecked; Nobody Hurt.

Alamogordo, N. M., Jan. 25.—Spreading rails resulted in wrecking a westbound El Paso & Southwestern freight train near Socorro, 17 miles north of El Paso Saturday night. Twelve cars, just behind the engine, were wrecked in a row, so that it was impossible to build a "choo-choo" and all traffic was blocked for about eighteen hours. The train and engine crews were not injured. Conductor Bert Haile and Engineer Fred Gilbert were in charge of the train.

NAVY SPOORILY PREPARED FOR ACTUAL WARFARE

Rear Admiral Knight Advocates Creation of Council of National Defense for Co-ordination of Resources.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER HERE
New York, Jan. 25.—Naval efficiency during peace and war was discussed at the annual banquet of the Efficiency society here tonight. Speeches were made by Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, president of the naval college at Newport, R. I.; Rear Admiral W. F. Fullam, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, and R. M. M. Robinson, managing director of a torpedo manufacturing company in Philadelphia.

Admiral Knight urged the creation of a council of national defense and the establishment of a division of strategy and operations in the navy department. He said:

"There can be no question that the existing organization of the navy department is inadequate and would break down under the strain of war," the rear admiral said. "The navy has one excuse for existing and only one, that it should always be ready to strike on the minute and with every element of power behind its blow, for the defense of the country."

War Is Not Considered.
"It is a singular fact that the organization of the navy department takes no account of this relation of the navy to the country as a whole, for which no arrangement is made. There are seven bureaus in the department, each with clearly defined duties, but in all the elaborate legislation creating these bureaus and defining their powers, no word is said about the duty of keeping the navy in readiness for war or preparing plans for war, or conducting war after it begins. There would be a certain element of comedy in this if there were not so many elements of possible tragedy."

Division of Strategy Needed.
"This is the last and greatest defect in the efficiency of the navy. It could be remedied by the creation of a division of strategy and operations, preferably not co-equal with the present bureaus, but superior to them, and standing between them and the secretary. It would correspond more or less closely with the general staff of the army and the first sea lord of the British admiralty."

"It is not advocating a reorganization that would in any way reduce the authority of the secretary. The creation of this office would create a policy for the navy insuring unity of effort and shaping plans to support the needs from all our efforts—preparation for war."

Must Have National Policy.
"We need a policy broader than our naval policy and including it. This must be a national policy, dealing with both the army and the navy and bringing the broadest statesmanship to bear upon the question of national defense. Its enactment must come from the highest authority in the land, executive and legislative."

Should Be More Efficient.
"There is much about the navy that is splendidly efficient, but as a whole it is far less efficient than it ought to be. We are lacking in that harmonious composition of the fleet which is needed to give every element of it the support it needs from other elements. We are lacking in absolute and essential facilities for the care and preservation of our ships in an efficient organization of the personnel."

I ask you to picture the effect of a condition which a young officer graduating from the naval academy, full of spirit and enthusiasm, finds himself confronted with the prospect of promotion to the grade of lieutenant at the age of 32 years."

"Economy First" Poor Policy.
The policy of "economy first," Rear Admiral Knight said, had been applied to naval expenditures. The program advocated by the general board, the loss followed, he said, would have provided forty-seven battleships built and building in 1914, but it had not been followed and the country has thirty-seven battleships. He laid emphasis upon the necessity for auxiliaries such as fuel ships and transports.

Fleet Without Fuel Ships is Crippled.
"A fleet without fuel ships is crippled and one without scouts is blind," he declared. "To send a fleet thus blind and crippled into hostile waters would be to invite destruction."

Admiral Is Sarcastic.
Admiral Fullam said that in this country statesmen have not done enough to prepare the nation for a state of war.

Considers Immigration Bill.
Washington, Jan. 25.—President Wilson will take no action on the immigration bill, now before him for his signature or veto, before Wednesday when he will discuss the question with Chairman Barnard of the House immigration committee. Unless he acts one way or the other before Thursday midnight, the bill will become law automatically.

75 CARLOADS OF OATS SEIZED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Adulteration for Purpose of Swindling Foreign Buyers Is Charged by Federal Authorities.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER HERE
Washington, Jan. 25.—Seventy-five carloads of oats, intended for export shipment, have been seized by the federal authorities on the ground that the grain was adulterated with the meaning of the food and drug act.

This action was announced today by the department of agriculture with warning to grain shippers and dealers that adulterations of grain will no longer be tolerated, and that "the prevalence of the custom in the west will not affect legitimate shipments against future shipments found to be adulterated."

By the mixing of low grade barley, weed seeds, dust and water in shipments of grain, the department says, shippers and dealers have been able to realize large profits due to the fact that the grain is sold by weight.

CITY COUNCIL SESSION RUDELY INTERRUPTED

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER HERE
Chicago, Jan. 25.—The deliberations of the city council were interrupted tonight when Alderman Francis McDermott was shot by the leg at the door of the council chamber by a young woman who said her name was Miss Z. H. Zippman.

A policeman on duty in the chamber said Miss Zippman had been nervous watching the Alderman from the gallery to the council chamber. Her actions attracted McDermott's attention and he left his seat and started for the office of Vice Mayor Superintendent of Police Schuchter. Miss Zippman intercepted him.

McDermott was taken to a hospital. The wound was not serious. Miss Zippman declared that she had been married to Alderman McDermott in November 1912, but that he had declined publicly to acknowledge the marriage. She was recorded on the police books as Mrs. McDermott. The Alderman refused to affirm or deny the charge.

Would Enforce Respect.
Stockholm, Jan. 25.—The influential liberal newspaper "Tidningen," says today that the main object of the Swedish should not be to seek to profit by the difficulties of the great powers but to strengthen their defenses, thereby assuring respect of Sweden's neutrality by other governments and securing peace within her own boundaries.

Check the Symptoms of Lung Trouble.
Symptoms of severe lung trouble such as fever, night sweats and loss of weight, should be checked, or serious results will follow. Eckman's Alternative has brought about many recoveries. Read this:

305 W. Thirty-sixth St., New York.
"Gentlemen—Since I was a very young woman I was suffering from Bronchitis. I tried doctor after doctor, getting little or no benefit. Finally I had night sweats, weak spells and lost rapidly in weight, and my doctor told me if I did not stop, I would have Consumption. Miss Mary Korhammer, who is a friend of mine, recovered after taking your Alternative, and insisted that I try it. I am now after several years, perfectly well, strong and happy." (Abbreviated.)
